I. Self Portrait

Diversity . . . refers to the variety of personal experiences, values, and worldviews that arise from differences of culture and circumstance. Such differences include race, ethnicity, gender, age, religion, language, abilities/disabilities, sexual orientation, gender identity, socioeconomic status, and geographic region, and more.

-University of California Diversity Statement-

The Department of Design|Media Arts at UCLA brings together students from diverse backgrounds who can help each other learn to express their ideas through art, design, media, and technology. We believe all students benefit from working with colleagues from different backgrounds, with varied skill sets and abilities, to achieve a range of outcomes and ambitions.

In this assignment, we encourage you to reflect on the unique experiences, people, background, culture, history, upbringing, and circumstances that have shaped YOUR IDENTITY. Using media of your choice, create an artwork that helps us understand who you are. This assignment is not about demonstrating your technical skills or ability to create a photo-realistic image of yourself. A strong self portrait is not necessarily about what you look like physically, though it can be, if it conveys something important or meaningful to you.

The self portrait may be one still image or a multimedia file (audio and/or video). The multimedia file is limited to 10 seconds in length.

You will have 500 characters (including spaces)/approximately 100 words to describe how your piece connects to your background, culture, history, upbringing, and circumstances that have shaped your identity.

You will have an optional 500 characters (including spaces)/approximately 100 words to describe how your piece addresses the word.

III. Book

Using only typography and color, make an alternative cover for your favorite book. The book can be fiction or non-fiction and need not be in English as long as it is important to you. Think about what the themes, ideas, or characters mean to you and how you can express them in your design.

Your documentation of this project is one still image, or a multimedia file (audio and/or video). The multimedia file is limited to 10 seconds in length.

You will have an optional 500 characters (including spaces)/approximately 100 words to describe this piece.

IV. Self-Chosen Best Work

Upload your best piece of work. Your documentation of this project is one still image, or a multimedia file (audio and/or video). The multimedia file is limited to 10 seconds in length.

V. Unique Works

In this open category, you must upload five (5) images of your best work that show your passion, individuality, and experimentation! Though you may include examples of work from past years, we encourage you to be selective and submit mostly current, fully realized works.

7. ADDITIONAL WORK - Optional

Keep in mind that this area is optional and should only include new work that is distinct from the other submission categories. Your application will not be negatively affected should you choose not to submit in this area.
